TEN TO FOLLOW COMPETITIONS-ANNOUNCEMENTS / CLARIFICATION

TEN TO FOLLOW FLAT 2013

The following is intended to clarify the position regarding horses in the 10 to follow list who have been disqualified by the BHA or whose trainers are reportedly under investigation. This message was sent to those members for whom we hold e-mail address on Tuesday 30 April.

The inclusion of horses in your entry are your responsibility and at your own risk. Any horse(s) included in your entry will NOT automatically be replaced by one of your named substitutes, unless the owner/trainer has publicly stated that the horse(s) will not run during the entire period of the competition prior to the start of the competition on 4 May. For the avoidance of doubt CERTIFY and OPINION POLL, formerly trained by Mahmood Al Zarooni, have been disqualified by the BHA until 8 October but Sheikh Mohamed has not publicly declared they will not run after that date and they could therefore still earn points in the closing days of the competition.

ALL TEN TO FOLLOW COMPETITIONS

The Committee has considered a request that the Club should, at the start of the competition, publish in the newsletter the full list(s) of horses selected by each entrant in the Club's ten to follow competition. After due consideration the Committee has decided that we will not publish the lists for the following reasons.

- a) The amount of space the lists would take up in the newsletter.
- b) As the system is not computerised, the time and effort and risk of error inherent in retyping the details.
 - and, more importantly
- c) That we believe not all members would wish their lists to be publicised
- d) That not knowing the details of others lists adds to the excitement of the competition.

DIRECTIONS Please note that directions for stable visits and other events are provided based on the information available to us but cannot be guaranteed to be correct. Similarly post codes provided for navigation purposes cannot be certain to pin point the precise location of the stables. Members are advised to leave ample time for their journey and be prepared to ask locally for directions

Visit to Chris Gordon's Morestead Stables -Tuesday 26 March.

Chris Gordon was in good form – as always – but perhaps more so than usual as he imparted the news that he had just completed the purchase of Morestead Stables.

The yard has an interesting and unusual history, having started off life more than a century ago as stabling for military horses, soon to be needed in greater numbers for the First World War. The barracks style boxes, Nissan huts behind, trenches and even a war memorial bore testimony to this past. Harry Willis became the predominant figure in peacetime as the incumbent trainer for many years. Brendan Powell figures in the more recent history, and I well remember the bitterly cold morning when the Club visited in January 2002, shortly after an all-weather gallop had been installed.

All-weather doesn't equate to all-time, as the wood chip surface was nearing completion of its renewal as we gathered at the yard. Indeed the huge lorry delivering the last load of wood chip for the last half furlong had to be so positioned as to block access from the road except for those fearless of scratched paintwork.

With the gallops temporarily out of commission, we were treated to an in depth study of all of Chris's charges. One by one they were brought out of their boxes (which form three sides of a very large square around a central grassy area). Chris is a very keen student of conformation. So along with each horse's racing history we had an anatomy lesson. At least the stable staff were spared the rigours of trotting the horses up and down like last time we visited, when the unlucky lass did them all and was left blowing a bit by the end! The prolonged winter has had an adverse effect on many of Chris's horses in terms of poor coats, skin problems and even a case of "mud fever".

I'm not going to list all the 20 horses we saw, but to pick out a few. First mention goes to Promised Wings, a winner at Newbury the previous weekend, which got Chris off the dreaded trainers "cold list" and promised a turn in his fortunes. Next up was King Edmund a chaser, four time winner, and frustratingly five times in second place. He has done the yard proud, and is still enjoying his racing. The mare Marie Deja La should have added to her successes but for unseating jockey Tom Cannon at the last when well clear. Tom who is stable jockey was present and took Chris's gentle admonishment in the humorous spirit it was intended. She will win again when the ground eases.

A few days later, 1 April to be precise, Chris enjoyed a bumper afternoon at Plumpton, when from five runners he had two winners, a second, a third and an unlucky faller when in contention. Takeroc started the fun with a promising third, before Superciliary won by six lengths at 33/1; Absolute Shambles chipped in with a second place beaten six lengths this time. Gilded Age rounded off the afternoon with a win, and it could have been even better as Mangonel was upsides and challenging in the same race when falling two out (Richard Johnson up – or down as it turned out). What a day!

The last named is a Chris Gordon Racing Club horse, and the club is enjoying great fun. Nearby Fontwell is so handy that it is the preferred course for their horses, and with Chris's frequent runner policy, they have plenty of opportunity to see the CGRC colours in action. That really is what being in a club or member of a syndicate is all about, and, with the genial Chris on hand, it is a Club well worth being involved in. As our morning came to a close, Chris apologised for not taking us to see horses at exercise, but with the grass gallops not fully available, and the all-weather not complete, there was no alternative. Indeed, in recent weeks, the horses have been taken over the road and hacked across the valley to the A272 and back. Interesting for horses, riders and dog walkers alike!

Our thanks go to Chris, and his small team – wife Jenny and stable jockey Tom Cannon do a lot of the riding out. And should you be interested in getting involved at Morestead Stables, consider the Race Club or failing that there is an opening for a head lad! There were plenty of talking points over our excellent breakfast in nearby Twyford, but apparently no one was looking for an employment opportunity.

Visit to Weatherbys at Wellinborough - Monday 25 March

Organised by the Northern Racing Club, and in conjunction with the Midlands Racing Club, ten members of the WBRC attended the headquarters of the administration of all aspects of British horse racing – Weatherbys at Wellingborough in Northants.

After a brief introduction from Nick Cheyne, Client Relations Director, we were split into three groups and proceeded to a series of five 20 minute seminars, each led by a specialist in their aspect of Weatherbys work. The amount of information put before us was astounding, amazing but never less than fascinating. There is far too much to put into a report of this nature, a thumbnail sketch will have to suffice.

Horse Registry – the breeding history of every foal is meticulously recorded, and published annually as the Return of Mares. The General Stud Book is published every four years, a compilation of researched racehorse pedigree, covered in 46 volumes going back to 1791.

Racing Services – operating under contract to the British Horseracing Authority, this department provides information to owners and trainers, including recording all registrations, ownerships, colours and syndicates. The vast majority of owners have just one horse, and there are over 12.5million possible owners' colours combinations available. The compilation of race results from electronic feeds direct from the racecourse, and the recording of all horses in training, with accuracy, are other functions of this department.

Racing Operations – responsible for the production of the lists of runners and riders that appear in the newspapers every day. A massive task with entries, declarations, non-runners, going reports and liaising with the BHA handicappers re weights, the department has just Christmas Day off! Nearly forgot – they conduct the starting stalls draw.

Commercial Services – racecards, sports programs, ticketing and book selling are under this departments remit. Racecards provide the majority of the work, with 4 million a year, and up to 70,000 in one day, all printed and delivered overnight to any of 53 British racecourses.

Bloodstock Services – a comprehensive database of breeding and racing information of over 1.6 million animals going back over a century, provides the basis for many publications, but especially sales catalogues (one horse to a page, and 20,000 pages annually for sales companies).

The above is just an overview of what Weatherbys does for the administration of British racing. The mini sessions were interactive with a host of questions thrown up, and answered. Some snippets stuck in my memory – maximum of 18 characters in a horse's name; names are screened for acceptability (this may involve saying out loud or with an Irish accent!); there are 3,000 protected horses names – there will never, ever be another FRANKEL; 15,000 horses in training at any one time; and so on.

An eye-opening morning, giving an insight to so much that we take for granted in the racing world, and all of it fascinating. Should the WBRC membership want to visit again, I certainly wouldn't mind a repeat of the Weatherbys experience.

Visit to Laura Mongan's Condover Stables at Epsom - Wednesday 24 April

Have you noticed the trend in sporting circles to drop the place name attached to many major events? In Golf we refer to "The Open", in Tennis to "The Championships" – the words "British" and "Wimbledon" are deemed superfluous; we all know, and the rest of the world ought to know, what is being referred to. So too in Racing. The Grand National and The Derby need not be prefixed with their locating adjectives "Aintree" and "Epsom". Having said that, there is more to Epsom than the world's premier horse race, as the Club found out on a visit there recently.

Historically Epsom Downs has been second only to Newmarket Heath as a training centre of excellence for centuries. Laura Mongan has been part of this history for just a decade, and a recent high profile win prompted our first ever trip to Epsom, combining a stable visit with an afternoon's racing. A real home-town girl, Laura grew up with horses, starting off with the pony club, then eventing and graduating as an amateur rider with Epsom-based Brooke Sanders. Her first ride at the age of 16 years was a winner, as was her second, and she went on to have seven winners from 70 rides.

Laura's education in racing progressed to stints with Nick Littmoden and Sir Mark Prescott in Newmarket. Here she also met her husband-to-be Ian Mongan, who has been champion jockey on the all-weather on three occasions. Returning to her Epsom base as a permit holder in 2004 with five horses to her name, her first runner was a winner. No surprise to learn that the memory is still very clear – Time To Shine, over the jumps at Folkestone!

Today, Laura holds a full dual licence and trains 20 horses in a mixed Flat/NH yard. She has no two-year olds, and tends to acquire older horses from bigger stables, and coax a little more out of them.

Very considerately Laura had kept back third lot for us to see at exercise, and they were all due to run at the same meeting in two days-time. Now it is but a short distance to the gallops sited as part of the Downs and beside the racecourse proper, but it does necessitate walking the horses on a main road with the Downs and Epsom grandstand looming on the skyline. To get to our vantage point ahead of the horses we drove into the racecourse, parked in the wide central expanse and walked across the actual course at a point 3 furlongs or so uphill from the Derby start point – quite a thrill just to be there really.

Our group consisted of Orsm, Cossack Prince, Sea Cadet, Cinematique and Rosoff, and they duly appeared from the hollow and did one piece of work at a steady canter. Rosoff, a quirky grey, did a second turn on his own. They all looked fit and well, and moved nicely. No worries here. (As things turned out, our Famous Five managed two thirds, two fourths and a fifth when put to the test at Plumpton). Back at the yard, we were introduced to First Avenue. Like most of Laura's charges he had been turned out in the paddock after exercise.

First Avenue had sprang somewhat of a major surprise when winning the very competitive Imperial Cup at Sandown the weekend before the "The Festival" – need I say Cheltenham? Ridden by Nathan Adams, he came well clear at 20/1, and landed the £39K first prize – far and away Laura's biggest win. The Stewards took a quiet interest in the horses improved form, but Laura had all the answers (a couple of runs on the all-weather had sharpened him up; he liked the heavy going; etc.). Another horse who runs under both codes is Tuscan Gold. He ran at Newbury the weekend before our visit, over two miles on the Flat, well down the field under jockey husband Ian. His next run was over hurdles at Worcester the week after our visit, and this time Tom Cannon (who we last saw at Chris Gordon's yard) brought him home in first place, having survived a barging match with the second.

What more to say? Laura is a charming young lady; she looked after us well, answering all our questions. She has a lovely set up, compact but with all facilities provided; a full yard of mixed horses, both in terms of code and ability, and a menagerie of animals for distraction – goats, chickens and even a couple of turkeys were spotted. Her mother Mrs P J Sheen is a major owner, husband lan a regular rider, and her team at Condover Stables are hardworking and enthusiastic. I should mention that lan was not around that morning – he rides out for Sir Henry Cecil twice a week, quite a round trip to Newmarket and back, but rewarded by a winning ride on Disclaimer at Doncaster two days later.

Living and working within sight of Epsom racecourse must be inspirational. And I'm sure Laura has her sights set as high as the flags fluttering over the grandstand roof in the distance. Look out for the name MONGAN.

WBRC BEST TURNED OUT CHAMPIONSHIP

With the final day of jump racing at Newbury abandoned due to snow we were unable to present the shield to the winner of our best turned out championship for the Newbury 2012/13 season. The winner was Tim Vaughan's yard with nine best turned out awards. Fortunately WBRC members Jill Haines and Roger Gould were on their way to Ffos Las and called in at Tim's yard to present the prize. Roger takes up the story.

On 29 March Jill and I had the privilege of presenting the club's prize for the highest number of 'best turned out' horses during the 2012/13 National Hunt season at Newbury. The presentation was made to Tim Vaughan at his Pant Wilkin stables near Cowbridge in South Wales following the cancellation of the last National Hunt meeting at Newbury where the presentation was originally due to take place. This was a double pleasure for me as I was born a short distance from the yard, went to school in Cowbridge and bought my first pint when I was (circa) 18 only half a mile from the stables. The presentation of a shield was made to Tim himself and Katie Ash who received the liquid refreshment on behalf of the stable staff.

The yard is approached past the bottom of the St Hilary ITV mast which (when first erected) gave all us locals the excitement of a second TV channel. After you leave the main road you get stunning views across the Vale of Glamorgan before dropping down through a wood into the purpose built yard situated at the bottom of a small picturesque valley. It was built around 5 years ago and was bigger than I was anticipating, Tim explaining that he had 92 horses in training and there's no peace for the wicked or trainers, that morning (Good Friday) he was making 29 entries/declarations, many at Aintree. However, his secretary still has time to run the Kingsclere Racing Club for Andrew Balding. Tim invited us to look around the yard which was a constant buzz of activity. We counted at least six horse walkers and saw a lot of familiar faces including Saint Are who subsequently finished ninth in the Grand National.

After a fascinating morning we left going back up the hill past a field of (so far) unidentified unusual black sheep with white tips to their tails. At the top where we had more stunning views, this time across the Bristol Channel.

Tim was delighted to receive the trophy and has invited the club to run a trip to his yard at a future date.
